

Renee A. Salway is a Real Estate Broker the Denver metro area with accolades as a top ten producer. Renee serves fellow real estate agents through her role as Mentor and Trainer and loves helping agents reach their full potential in an ever-changing market.

Renee's expertise in mentoring allows her to coach entrepreneurs outside the real estate industry to help them grow their business and overcome the struggle to create a life of inner peace and well-being. Renee's experience with helping others work through life trauma includes being a regional speaker and representative for SAFY (Special Alternative for Fostering Youth) of Indiana, an organization that helps place older youths with caring foster families. Renee has brought her message of hope and healing to various women's organizations, churches & faith-based associations, as well as several teen groups.

In her spare time, Renee enjoys jogging in the early morning Colorado sunshine. She is learning to play piano, and is an accomplished singer and actor. Renee is currently writing a memoir detailing more of her life and how she overcame incredible trauma, pain, and obstacles. After raising two girls on her own, Renee is now married and lives in beautiful Aurora, Colorado.
