

Camille Parker is a seeker along the path of life. She has spent her life helping people. Whether in business or personal relationships, she finds a way to show people how to connect – with each other and with themselves. Working in corporate America for much of her life, she has always managed to find a way to blend her love of writing and her love of helping people.

Through a series of life-altering events, Camille finds her calling is to write. For others and herself. As the founder of Carerra Ink in 2017, she creates paths for her content marketing clients to follow and grow their businesses using her words to write their stories.

Raised in Colorado, Camille has a lifelong love of nature and animals, especially dogs. Though she is without a canine companion presently, she is known to walk down a street or path visiting every dog along the way. An avid proponent for many causes, Camille can be found working to support women's education, environmental issues, homelessness and animal causes.

To work with Camille or read some of her posts, please go to carerraink.com.

