

Ginny Lee is a wife of 40 years, a Mom of two sons and a daughter, and a “GiGi” to six Grandchildren. Ginny is an active member of her church and, she participates in small group studies, where they learn from one another’s experiences and grow closer to God. She currently lives in Upstate New York with her husband and their dog Daisy Mae, where they love to work outside in their yard and enjoy nature. Her greatest accomplishment in life is her family, through whom she witnesses the true Blessings of God in her life. Ginny is currently working toward publishing a book in hopes that through the sharing of her own life lessons, she can be an encouragement to others to never lose hope.
